MEMBERSHIP: THE SPACE INDUSTRY ASSOCIATION OF AUSTRALIA

The Space Industry Association of Australia has been the lead voice promoting the development of Australia's space industry since 1992.

MEMBERSHIP

The Association successfully hosted the 2017 International Astronautical Congress in Adelaide, which catalysed the formation of the Australian Space Agency.

SIAA's trusted relationships ensure the association can lead the agenda for the growth of Australian space and represent our industry within Australia and internationally.

Membership of SIAA brings access to networking and opportunities across the Australian space industry. SIAA connects space businesses to each other and to the wider economy. We convene the industry through our annual flagship conference, the Southern Space Symposium, and regular events throughout the year which are exclusive to SIAA members.

Our members are at the forefront of the Australian space industry and include prime contractors, satellite operators, research institutes, aerospace companies, manufacturers, government departments and agencies, start-ups, SMEs, professional services firms, space investment firms, and individual professionals working across Australia's space economy.

We connect our members and the industry to high level decision makers in government and adjacent industries, providing a forum to hold trusted conversations and create outcomes that grow revenue and jobs in and from the Australian space industry.

We provide the industry's voice to the media, public, and government and achieve tangible results for the industry through our advocacy.

WHY MEMBERS JOIN

SIAA members join the association to raise their profile, build their networks, expand their engagement with decision makers, and receive access to the latest industry information, insights, and opportunities.

Corporate members are listed in the Australian Space Industry Capability Database and are credentialed with the SIAA logo to acknowledge their leadership role in our industry. SIAA members are able to join SIAA policy committees to shape industry policy, to be appointed to the SIAA Advisory Council, and to stand for election as a director on the SIAA board.

All memberships include access to the Southern Space Symposium (2021 Symposium tickets are $1000 ex GST) as well as member-only events throughout the year.
